BARBARA THORNE.

CONTINUED.

"You must really pardon my violence," said Mr. Darrow, laughing when we had safely reached the bottom. "Look back and see what you have escaped."

"I could have guided her without your assistance," I said, suddenly, and he answered with a clear, earnest look straight into my eyes:

"No, you could not, my poor child, and you cannot yourself. You are at perpetual war with circumstances. You had better consider my offer, let me be your friend at least while we are together."

And then he forgot—cast off for Sylvie Marples would never let her husband be my friend. Not such an offer I should accept, but, oh, what an almost irresistible temptation it was to me. I was not angry at what he said of myself to guide myself. I knew it was true, and I was—oh, so tired of battling with the world and with life, straggling on quite alone, with no word of sympathy or counsel! A true wise man, and a strong friend would be such an estimable boon to me! Who else had ever given me justice? But this man, young, handsome, distinguished, had taken the trouble to give me more than justice. He had shown me favor, the unconscious chivalric favor of a man to a woman just as though I were anybody else. He had absolutely praised me—meaning what he said; he offered now to be my friend, meaning it as well.

No one but a woman like myself who had never before received a moment's consideration, could appreciate the worth to me of the few crumbs which had fallen to me from that strong and gentle hand. But I knew well it would be the sheerest folly in me to allow the flavor to be taken out of my everyday bread and butter by frequent tasting which must inevitably dissolve and vanish away when the sun rose—the sun of his love for the irresistible Sylvie.

He was not to be baffled, however, and that evening, as I was following the children out of the drawing-room, he called out to me:

"Miss Thorne! one moment, please!"

When I turned back, he met me at the door and said:

"You ride, of course, Miss Thorne as you drive, well. Will you ride with me at sunrise to-morrow? I know you rise with the sun."

How Glad I was to get to bed!

An hour's hard thinking and a night's rest restored my balance entirely. I rode quite myself, cool, collected, and armed cap-a-pie for my daily warfare. To my amazement, and a little to my amusement, when I descended to the dining-room, I found both Mr. Darrow and Miss Marples there.

I think that he was an early riser, and had petitioned to be allowed to join the "railroad breakfast," as the children called their father's hurried morning meal. So Sylvie had made a mighty effort in his honor, and appeared likewise.

I played for an hour, and then I rose, bowed quietly, and left the room. How tired I was of it all! How glad to get to bed!

A CONVENTION CALLED.—We publish elsewhere the proceedings of the meeting of our Democratic Executive Committee, from which it will appear that a convention of the Democratic party of this county is called to meet in Shelbyville on Monday, May 16th; the present meetings to be held on Saturday May 14th. The committee acted wisely and the party will sustain its action. The time for close party organization has arrived and the old fashioned Convention is the only resource left to the Democracy of Shelby to present to the opposition a solid, unbroken front.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Last Monday, all or nearly all, of the candidates for county offices addressed "the people" at the Court House. Had we the space we would be glad to give our readers an abstract of the remarks of the various gentlemen.

One result of the speaking was to cheer us with the hearty and zealous opposition which the various candidates exhibited toward doing anything to mar the harmony of the party. While courtesy was indulged in and harmless threats made at the records of opponents, there was pervading the remarks of the speakers one sentiment, and that was to abide by the decision of the party, whatever form that decision was arrived at. Most of the candidates are young men, but we do not believe there is in any county in the State a more gallant, more intelligent or more patriotic class of official aspirants than the gentlemen who are announced as candidates in Shelby county.

Judge J. L. Caldwell made an able argument at the court house on last Monday in behalf of the Turnpike tax to be voted upon on the 23d. The attention of our readers is called to the act published in this issue and we will add some explanatory remarks in our next. This is a question of vital influence to our county and we hope every citizen will give it immediate attention.

COURTESY.—The Louisville Commercial claims much for its courtesy, but in two instances during the past week falls far short of its boasted perfection. Its issue of yesterday assumes to doubt the authenticity of the letter we published from an intelligent negro of Indianapolis, advising his colored friends not to vote for the Radicals. It will be remembered that we vouch for its authenticity, and stated that the original could be seen at this office. Is it courteous to insinuate that we fabricated the letter when proof to the contrary is offered?

The other instance of lack of courtesy is the publication of a letter from an ill-bred correspondent signing himself James M. Fidler, who referring to this paper uses language employed by men whose mental calibre corresponds with their low and vulgar instincts. We will not believe you are courteous as long as you insinuate without investigation or while you publish the cards of a character who seeks notoriety, even if it is obtained by his making a fool of himself.

As one of the immediate results of the adoption of this fifteenth amendment, the collectors of several prominent ports on the Atlantic coast have already been called upon to make appointments of colored men to positions in their custom houses.

Morton's Infamous Bill.

Mr. Morton introduced the following as a substitute for his former bill:

It enacted, &c. That if any person shall prevent, hinder, control or intimidate, any person from exercising or in exercising the right of suffrage to whom the right of suffrage is secured or guaranteed by the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, by means of bribery or threats of depriving such of employment or occupation, or of rejecting such person, rented houses, lands or other property, or by threats to renew leases or contracts for labor, or by threats of violence to himself and family, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned not less than six months, and fined in any sum not less than $500 nor more than $1,000.

Section 2. That if any person shall hinder, delay, prevent or obstruct, or attempt to hinder, delay, prevent, or obstruct, any person from voting at ant Presidential, Congressional, State, county, town or municipal election, in any State, Territory or district, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude, or slave, acting in capacity of a State, county, township, municipal, Territorial or district officer, fail, refuse or neglect to perform any office, duty or service to prevent, hinder or delay any persons as aforesaid, from voting at any election as aforesaid, such person shall be deemed guilty of misdeameanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned not less than sixty days nor more than six months, and fined any sum less than $500 nor more than $1,000.

Section 3. That the Circuit and District Courts of the United States shall have jurisdiction over offenses created by this act.

Amendment to the Turnpike Act.

Farmer's Club.

WHAT CLASSES OF HORSES, CATTLE, ETC., CAN BE MOST PROFITABLY RAISED IN SHELBY CO?

JNO. A. RICH'S ESSAY.

I am accustomed as I am to perform competent to perform the task you have put upon me, but will in a brief manner give you my opinion limited to the stock raising. The first thing of importance that I would recommend to the stock raiser is that he furnish himself with the best breeds that can be had, as we have different breeds for the different stock. We should be very careful to adopt the raising of that class best suited to our taste as it requires much more capital to carry on successfully one kind of stock than another, we should be governed somewhat as to the capacity of our pocket book. As we have several different kinds of stock I will take each class separately, the horse in my opinion stands at the head of the list. The first thing to decide upon is what kind of a horse we had best suited to our wants. I am decidedly of the opinion that we should adopt the variety of our breeds of horses as well as all other classes of stock to the demands of our market, and so far as my information extends I am merely convinced that there are two classes. The horses and saddle horse, that the farmers of Shelby should be encouraged to propagate to the best advantage, especially in the market with other portions of the State. We can all see from our agricultural journals that the fast trotting and the fancy harness horses are the most popular, and among the high priced and where men are turning their attention to this class of stock fortunes are being made. Why can not Shelby have fast and good horses as other counties? We have got them and it has been proven and all that is necessary is to induce the people to give them more attention. Have them handled at the proper time and in the proper manner and have it done in our own country and not let strangers come here and take them away for a mere trifl and get the credit and benefit that we should have. As to the saddle horse or harness horse, I think ought to appreciate the importance of keeping up and improving this class of horses. There is not a day that we do not have a demand for them, a demand for greater than the supply. The Stand Still and Draught horse I cannot recommend. We cannot afford to keep a horse to look at, if he cannot do something we have no use for him. We are in a state of progression and the first question a purchaser would ask you is what your horse could do well if you cant tell him anything more than he stands well at the end of the halter. It is not considered much recommendation. Instead of the Draught horse I would recommend the mule for several reasons. They live on less, stand more work, especially in hot weather, and when you are tired of them you have a ready market. And just here I would say that mule raising is profitable to some men. As to the raising of horses I think mares should breed early in the spring that the colts may come early so they can be weaned early in the fall and learn to eat the hard winter sets in. Good shelter is very necessary where colts are well taken care of until two years old; they make horses much easier kept and handled than if allowed to get poor. They should be haltered while sucking and kept gentle and they get to the proper age and should any accident occur to them they would not have to be broke to receive the necessary attention.

Where colts are properly handled more money is made if selling before coming to maturity. Castling in our county has proven very profitable to the farmer while we have been slow in our improvement yet our advancements have been steady and with the increased interest that has within the last year and is still being manifested by our farmers to procure the best breeds of cattle. We do not hesitate to say that Shelby county will soon be able to compete successfully with any portion of Kentucky in the raising of cattle and rear a better class of horses, the scrub and scrawny stock will soon be gone to the woodbine twine.

Shelby, the Christianburg project has been sub-divided into two voting precincts, and an election was held to become necessary for the committee to decide what portion of the vote polled for Seymour and Blair at Christianburg new property belongs to Jacksonville, and being advised by representative Democrats from both said precincts.

Resolved, That the committee recommend that the present meetings instruct their delegates to give to each candidate before the convening of their respective strength as ascertained at their several recent meetings.

The following preamble and resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, the present heretofore known as the Christianburg project has been sub-divided into two voting precincts, and an election was held to become necessary for the committee to decide what portion of the vote polled for Seymour and Blair at Christianburg new property belongs to Jacksonville, and being advised by representative Democrats from both said precincts.

Resolved, That the committee recommends that the following be the number of votes to which each precinct will be entitled in the convention under the rule adopted.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—The Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby county will meet at the office of Bullock & Davis on Monday the 11th of April at 2 o'clock P. M. It is important that every member of the committee should attend the meeting. J. W. DAVIS, Chairman.

Members of the Committee.—Judge J. L. Caldwell; Dr. J. Baker; Judge J. P. Force; Chas Ware; Jno. W. Bell; Lemuel W. Conner; Wm. Bullock, Jr.; Adam Middleton and A. M. Snook.

A Protracted Meeting is in progress at the Methodist E. Church, South. The pastor, Dr. Buckner, is assisted by Rev. S. X. Hall of Lexington.

C. J. Hinkle common school Com. notifies the trustees that the blank forms for reports are now ready for distribution and can be had at his office.

Trustees are required under the new common school law to have their reports by the first day of June 1870.

SALES.—At Dr. J. W. Taylor's sale last week, horses sold from $107, to $156. A yearling colt brought $75, 3 yearling mules sold for $70, each. Stock cattle brought about 6 cts, and hogs about 8 cts.

At the sale of Miss Mary Buford, near Pleasureville, in Henry, M. P. Island, Auctioneer, terms three months credit, hogs sold at 9cts, two year old cattle, about 700 lbs, $60 each. Milch cows brought from $40 to $70.

The wheat crops are very promising in the Southern part of Shelby, and all through Spencer and Nelson counties it really looks better at this season. The farmers, too, are generally getting along well with their Spring work.

Hemmings, Cooper, & Whiting's Gigantic Exhibition will be here next Tuesday. It is one of the largest exhibitions of the kind ever in this place.

The Zoological Collection is the rarest and most complete, and the Equestrians, Gymnasts, &c., are the masters of their profession.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Shelby county Agricultural and Mechanical Association will meet at the Court House in Shelbyville, Ky., on Wednesday, April 13th, 1870, to elect officers for the ensuing year.

IMPORTANT.—Those who have attained to the greatest eminence in the science of Medicine, and who have by a life-long study and observation with the human organism, obtained great insight into the origin and pathology of disease, are yet, notwithstanding all their profound and learned theories, confoundedly groping in the dark as to the first cause of any and all diseases that affect our race. But this much has been clearly elucidated, and is becoming an axiun with the learned profession, that by far the greatest number of our ailments are directly traceable to derangements of the digestive function and if "good digestion wait on appetite," health will be almost uniform. Acting upon this axiom, the inventor of Dr. Hurley's Celebrated Stomach Bitters has been eminently successful, judging from the many testimonials that he has adduced.

THE PLAN.

The plea of Mr. Whittemore, argued so disastrously to his client by General Butler, that the cadet money all went to the poor, has revived the old story of the miller who sometimes had crazy fits in which he always imagined himself to be the Lord judging the world. On these occasions he would put on a paper crown, ascend a pile of meal bags with great dignity, and call his neighbors in succession. The same ones were always judged; and they were millers of his vicinity. The first summoned was Hans Schmidt.

"Hans Schmidt, stand oop, Hans, vat is your pishness in dat old world?"

"I was a miller, Oh Lort."

"Vas you a joost mon?"

"Vell, ven der vater was low and the pishness is bad, O Lort, sometimes I dakes leetle extra doles."

"Vell, Hans, you shall go ofer mit der goats, already wet."

And in succession all were tried and immediately sentenced to go over to the goats. Last of all the miller invariably tried himself in the following style:

"Yacob Miller, stand oop, Yacob, vat was your pishness in dat order world?"

"I was a miller, Oh Lort."

"Vas you always a joost mon, Yacob?"

"Vell, Oh Lort, ven de vater was a leetle low and de pishness pad, I sometimes dakes some leetle extra doles; but, Oh Lort, I all de vole gives does extra doles to de poor."

[After a long pause]

"Vell, Yacob Miller, you can go ofer mit de sheeps, it is woh dam tight squeeze.—Wash. Cor. Cincinatti Gazette.

A young domestic, named Marion Chesterman, was burned to death at Covington on Saturday night. She was pouring coal oil on the fire to start it when her clothes caught the flames and before they were extinguished, her injuries were fatal.

Two rival candidates are claiming to be the rightful Mayor of Richmond, Va., and the hostilities between the two and their adherents resulted in some bloodshed.

Gen. Ames is credited with saying that he has fixed things in Mississippi, so as to give the radicals control of the state for at least five years to come. So much for bayonets.

Black Men? Look Out.

The negro, and all that he has gained—not by the war, but by the necessities of the Radical party—are trial before the white tribunal of the United States. He is in a woful minority. When the Jacobin has done with him as a tool, and is ready to drop him, then comes his crisis. Let him prepare for judgment! The Montgomery Advertiser has been doing some suffrage epurning that it would be well for the negro to study and understand—Look at the figures:

There are between seven and eight millions of voters in this country. Of these 825,000 are negroes. There are 775,000 in the fifteen late slaveholding States; 7,500 in the six New England States; 43,000 in the five States of Ohio, Indiana, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and 8,500 in the remaining ten Western States and Territories. In the fifteen late slave States there are about one million four hundred thousand voters.

The figures prove beyond dispute that the future destiny of the negro is in the hands of the white race in the South. Their voting strength is 775,000 against one million four hundred thousand white voters. The numerical strength of the white element is growing hourly by immigration and natural increase. The black strength is as steadily diminishing from natural causes, and they have no sources of foreign supply to keep up the equilibrium, then should the negro do? Make friends with the white people in the South, or adhere to that cursed big enemy? It is for them to determine. If they choose the latter course, they must meet their fate with them, and go to the bottom with the sinking Radical ship. Let them prepare for judgment.

IMMIGRATION.—Large numbers of immigrants from the Northern States are seeking homes in Tennessee.

White immigrants are pouring in to Mississippi at an unprecedented rate.—Chicassaw county has imported 700 white laborers and Lowndes county 300 up to this time.

Two Southern gentlemen, Messrs. Giff and Williams, are at present in Hong Kong making arrangements to send 700 Chinese laborers to Savannah and New Orleans.

GOOD TEMPLARS IN DANVILLE.—We learn from the Advocate, that J. H. Hickman, G. W. C. T., delivered a temperance address on Monday evening, 14th at the close of which ninety persons gave their names ready to co-operate in an organized movement. Whereupon a lodge of Good Templars was at once set to work, and officers elected.—Ex.
